

Teeth

People use their teeth to bite and chew food.

Everybody has two sets of teeth. Their first set is called milk teeth. Their second set is called permanent teeth. People get 24 milk teeth and 32 permanent teeth.

People also have two types of teeth. Their front teeth are for biting and their back teeth are for chewing.

The enamel is the hard surface on a person's teeth. Too much sugar and fizzy drinks can crack the enamel. The dentin is inside the enamel. The root connects the tooth and gum together.

People look after their teeth by brushing every day and night.
