

My Awesome Summer

During the summer I went to Algarve, Portugal.

When we got there everyone was exhausted because our flight was 10 hours delayed. When we got to our apartment we got changed and went down to the buffet then when we were finished we went to sleep the next day we went zip lining 1 km. When we were done we went back to the hotel and had dinner when we were finished we went to the apartment. The next day we went swimming the whole day. We did the same the next day. The day after that we went to zoomarine which is a combination between a waterpark and a zoo. The day after that I went on my first rollercoaster which was awesome.

That is why it was the coolest summer ever!
